Tuberculosis Sufferer.

Another contribution of $5 received yesterday by The Washington Herald for T. W. Gibson, who is making a fight in a sanitarium in New Mexico against tuberculosia, has brought the fund up to a total of $41.

The letter accompanying the contributions of the contribution of $10.

The letter accompanying the contribution reads as follows:

country would think more of the needs of the peor within the borders of the

There are more baby girls adopted than boys! than boys!
This is true not only in Washington, but in other orphanage asylums throughout the country. A canvass of the local orphanages yesterday afternoon revealed that there are many more girls between the ages of 1 and 3 years adopted than there are boys.

There are also more children taken care of by foster parents at this age than at any other. It is believed that babies of these ages are easier to train. The matrons and superintendents of the different homes all agreed yesterday that

The matrons and superintendents of the different homes all agreed yesterday that tiny girls are more popular for adoption, but were at a loss to give a definite reason why this was so. They are of the opinion that foster parents prefer girls to boys because they are easier to handle, and are not quite so mischlevous and troublesome as the sterner sex.

Children between the ages of 5 and 10, it seems, are not in the favor of would-

Children between the ages of 5 and 10, it seems, are not in the favor of would-be parents, as the cases for adoption in comparison, are very few alongside the calls for ones of younger years. It is just at this age when boys and gris most need the care and love of some one older for the years that are to come.

There is a story for the logical, se-ductive airs for the musical, and comedy for the lovers of ingenuous fun. Mu-sically this operetta has the rich instru-mentation which bespeaks clever mu-sicianship. It is one succession of tune-ful melodies, colorful and captivating, and the voices of several of the interpreting cast are really exceptional in operatts. cast are really exceptional in operetta today. Every song is a gem, but the haunting sweetness of "Mother," and the "Kiss Waltz," make these numbers stand out above the others.

"Her Soldier Boy" tells of the adventures of that happy-to-lucky young

The press agent speaks truly when he says that Clifton Crawford's "unctuous" humor, adroit drolleries and incisive touches of sheer fun are shown in high relief in this delightful characterization." relief in this delightful characterization."

John Charles Thomas is that rare article in musical comedy, a barytone with a real voice, which, combined with his manly stage presence and well-defined personality, contributed in making his performance of the soldier boy who must give up his love in order to save a mother from unhappiness, most enjoyable. He made "A Song of Home" particularly effective.

Beth Lydy possesses a brilliant soprano, which gives full value to the charming Kalman melodies, and plays the Belgian maid most effectively. Adele Rowland was delightfully vivacious; Frank Ridge, Eliz Geigely, Cyril Chadwick, Harold Vizard, George Schillen and Louise Galloway are equal to their opportunities. Mildred Richardson danced very well.

The chorus was all that it should befreeh-toned, graceful and well trained. If you have a heart and mind for bright music to set your feet going, delightful
